THE COVER

The figure standing on the globe is in the act of removing the cloak of ignorance which has veiled the knowledge of the ancient past and is now unveiling the truth that will be revealed in the coming cycle.

Maxin 92 symbolizes the sacred fire or unfed light existing in Atlantis in ancient days. This fire left the temple, and the book beneath it banished in sight of the multitudes when the wickedness of man became great.

The Maxin Light was a combination of pure substances, and maybe a combination of all of the 92 elements of which the universe consists. Our scientists have discovered only 90 of these elements at this present day. Since the universe and everything that exists is created by manipulation of different combinations of the 92 elements, maybe the discovery of the missing two elements will result in the eventual re-creation of the ancient Maxin Light.

This, I feel to be a certain truth though . . . That when mankind has attained to the knowledge which will make this possible, then also will mankind have attained to the virtue which will result in the Maxin Book being again returned to mankind. This book which rested beneath the Light contained the key to universal knowledge. Our gravest fault today is in not realizing that there can be no complete knowledge without virtue. When we have fitted together the keys to many missing puzzles and have turned these keys with virtue born of wisdom then will the glory of Atlantis become apparent, and we will know that between AD and BC there are relationships, and mystery will hide truths no more!

EXPLANATIONS . . .

Many people have asked me how I became interested in this work and what events led up to this publication. This is a long story and due to limited space I will discuss this in a later edition.

I will tell you this much SOMETHING, I know not what, prompted me to place an Ad in Amazing Stories about Lemuria and Atlantis to see what response there would be. In writing this ad one thought led to another and when the ad was finished I found that I had promised to put out a publication if I received enough response to the ad.

Well, here is the response! In fact, I have the Lion by the Tail, and because I am a "Leo" myself it becomes a battle of lion against lion. I decided that because the human lion was more intelligent than the beast I should be able to win this battle in the long run. Having tested the workings of Fate in the past and believing as I do that one is led into the things they should possess (provided they let themselves be led and accept only what is meant for them) I tossed my problem into the hands of fate and really surprised myself with the daily developments and the eventual result of this . . . MAXIN 92.

Your letters made Maxin 92 possible and the future of the publication depends on your letters. Keep them coming, respond quickly, and tell me what you know of hidden lore. I will follow the trail regardless of where it leads.

I am the hub to a wheel of correspondence, and not the authority. Therefore I will impart any knowledge I have to you, but will not debate any issues personally. My mind is open. I am impartial. I am not anti-anything except "anti-dero".

Many of you will wonder why I do not give credit in this publication and mention the names of the people who write to me. It is for your protection. Until I know where we stand on the dero situation, also because the people who know and won't tell will open up and tell me what they do know if they feel I will not disclose the source of my information.

All letters I receive are copied immediately omitting names and the originals are placed in a bank vault. No one has access to these names but myself. When answering letters published in Maxin 92, address your letterhead to the number of the letter you are answering. Then I will publish your answer in the next edition by number also—then continuing to build on a particular subject until I get a logical solution to the problem which I will publish. I do not invite criticizm of any material in this publcation UNLESS accompanied by something constructive to back up your viewpoint.

. . . The most noble criticism is that in which the critic is not the antagonist so much as the rival of the author . . . Disraeli . . .

EDITORS NOTES

There is no danger of the world and universe being blown up as a result of exploding the atom. The atom can only be exploded by another atom, and it cannot be exploded unless immersed in water or wax. The reason for this being that the nitrogen bullets from an exploded atom anywhere else travels with such speed that it misses the surrounding atoms. Exploded in the water or wax and retarded by same, the process is slowed down so that one atom may explode the other atoms. This is a protection provided by nature so that man may not blow up the universe.

BIBLE PREDICTION

I can see no reason for any great terror over this "new" discovery. Nearly all of the bibles predict atom exploding. Bible prediction always come true, and there is no prediction that man will ever happen onto any foolish error which would explode our universe. The Atlanteans understood and used atomic energy in their every day life. This is what made many of their great inventions possible and they will come again in this time.

CONFERENCE PREDICTED

The use of the atomic bomb is just another of God's gigantic plan of the universe. The San Francisco conference was predicted in the Bible "Oahspe". The joining of the nations was predicted as the date of the beginning of the last cycle of time, and the beginning of the time when the seas would be opened up to Japan with Japan being invaded and conquered. Great destruction was predicted to be wrought upon Japan as a result of the union of the nations. The atomic bomb is the evidence but it may not be the only castrophe to visit Japan, for the total destruction of Japan is predicted to come by earthquake and cataclysm. This is clearly indicated in all Bible prophesy.

WESTCOAST OF U. S.

The west coast of the United States is the spot where the evidence of the ancient past will be revealed and God's Hand in the creation of all things be evidenced. The West Coast of the United States will be the place where a Heavenly Kingdom is established and the place of the resurrection in the end of time which will be about 3400 years from the date of the joining of the nations at San Francisco. The term "end of time" indicates a cycle and is in noway indicative of the end of the universe as some fatalists like to predict.

It appears that man's hand is bringing things about, but actually man is only carrying on as directed by Universal Law and the Great Cosmic Intelligence that mapped out man's destiny in the beginning and is causing him to fulfill his destiny as it has been written. Always man has had indicated to him the future. It has been an open book no one has troubled to read, and few who have read have believed. A thing has to happen for doubtful man to believe. Nothing happens by accident. Everything is the result of plan and order, and man cannot change this.

ON THE OAHSPE

Oahspe is worth a reading regardless of your religion or belief because of the prediction contained therein that prove Oahspe is correct mathematically and historically. I would like to write a lengthly article on Oahspe, but space will not permit so I will mention a few points that may interest the reader.

Oahspe is a Bible, but it is so scientific that it is hard to tell whether you are reading a Bible or some great scientific document. To date I have not had one question that Oahspe could not answer for me, from the creation of the universe to man's destiny in the end of time. It takes much study to arrive at conclusions, and since it is impossible for me to figure it all out I am asking those of you readers who have Oahspe to see what you understand of it and write me your conclusions. I will piece these conclusions together and try to draw a picture of the future which I will share with all the readers.

JAPANESE PREDICTION

It is indicated that history does repeat itself in a slightly different manner every so many thousand years. It can be noted in the Oahspe that the Japanese are direct descendants of the Lemurians (as the Americans are also) but because the Japanese broke the commandment in not keeping peace they are to meet the same fate as the Lemurian did 26,000 years ago through earthquake and cataclysm.

TIME CLUE

The most important clue which I have uncovered in the Oahspe is the establishing of an accurate date for the beginning of the last cycle of time. This date is the key from which any date past or future can be calculated and all predictions and knowledge in Oahspe and other Bibles interpreted.

The begining of the last cycle of time according to my interpretation starts on the date that the San Francisco conference began. This last cycle of time shall last about 3400 years, everything will come to pass so expect great revelations because the time has come for the unveiling of the truth. Keep your mind open to the possibility that strange and wonderful things can happen. Don't condemn anything you do not undestand and you will not hinder the people who do undestand and want to unveil the past and learn the future.

The unholy man sees heavenly things dimly; he binds himself to ancient revelations which have become corrupt.—Oahspe.

ATLANTIS REBORN TODAY

LETTER NO. 1010

At last someone has the courage to come along with the inspiration, to venture what has so long been needed. And that is a get together place for those who not only have a knowledge of the continents of Lemuria and Atlantis but also for those who are interested for other reasons. Your idea is splendid, and one that I have long had in mind myself, but the fact that I am not equipped to carry on such a work has prevented it from ever being anything but just an idea. I predict this can become a truly great magazine with prospects of an international distribution. Rather than thousands, there must be literally a million who have come into this life with a knowledge either of Lemuria or Atlantis . . . through psychic means, race memory, or just plain memory carried over in the conscious mind from other lives. You are going to be very much surprised when you hear from the people who do remember these continents. They will not only come from the rank and file, but you will number among them the great and the noted.

I personally know of two great inventors who say they are only reinventing what they have given the world before. A great U. S. General in this war, an Admiral in the Navy, a President's advisor and so along the line, are among those who "remember". THE GREATEST TROUBLE IS GETTING THEM TO ADMIT IT., for the general public is very much the measuring stick we go by in these times. Do you suppose you could get (name of famous scientist withheld by Ed.) to admit publicly that he remembers many lives on ancient continent, and that his great mathematical knowledge is just an improvement on what he already knew and used in Atlantis? No. . . BUT he has told it privately.

And a certain single tax advocate —do you suppose he would admit publicly that he was trying to bring to this civilization that which he proved effective in Atlantis. No . . . BUT his grandson told me that he and Tolstoy talked over and remembered their experiences together in Atlantis, and that Tolstoy knew intimately over twenty past lives on the old continent. As for myself there are times when I could literally write a book based on old memories. Hardly a day goes by wihch does not bring something to mind. My memory does not go back to Lemuria, but does cary through Atlantis and Egypt.

ADAM IN ATLANTIS

I knew the late Edgar Cayce for years and have read much of the material now on file in Virginia Beach. In those files are the lineage of ONE FAMILY up through the ages, starting at the time of ADAM (?) In Atlantis with much intimate konwledge of custom and events.

I have just about all the available library material on Lemuria and Atlantis which has helped me a lot. However there the two books long out of print, which would help a lot, but I have never been able to locate them. One of these is ATLANTIS RESTORED, and if anyone knows of it, I will pay almost any price within reason for it.

You may be sure I will be glad to assume a full share of any expense involved in helping your organization.

As given from the records of Cayce the following data on Atlantis may be of much interest to your readers:

ATLANTIS REBORN TODAY

The world is being greatly influenced in this present age by ATlanteans. Besides those who are reincarnating into the world, there are Atlantean minds making their influence felt from the other side by impressing their thoughts upon psychics and the sensitive people of the world. We are physically, mentally, and spiritually therefore being washed against an Atlantean tide. To meet and cope with the influences which this causes it behooves us to understand these ancient people; to learn their weakness, to know their accomplishments.

The world of Atlantis like the world of today, was one of change, one of great achievements and terrible destructions. Rapid scientific strides made in recent times are evidences of the influence of the Atlantean mind, and the great discoveries just ahead will be made through the same influence. Our greatest scientists know little of the many natural laws controlled by the Atlanteans. Will this Atlantean Influence bring peace or turmoil into our world? The answer will depend exactly on who will guide, direct, and balance their great knowledge and energy. Therefore, it is important that all of us know of the ideals and purposes of these reincarnated peoples and the influences of the discarnate Atlanteans.

BEGINNINGS OF ATLANTIS

Psychic records are difficult to understand to obtain any idea of the origin of this mysterious continent. The earth's surface has changed many times during that cycle and since.

The people of Atlantis were a combination of the hardened thought forms manifestating in that part of the earth. The thought forms had taken all manner of shapes and sizes until finally a body proportioned as those of today had formed. That was the beginning of the great races. The black began in Sudan; the brown in Lemuria; the yellow in Gobi; the white in Central Europe; and the red in Atlantis.

These first Atlantean people were possesed of a body more physically developed than ours today. The third eye was functioning so that the knowledge of happenings at a distance could be known, and the physical body could be moved about by thought control.

These early Atlanteans passed through the same stages of development as other people, but early they learned to make rapid advances in the application of natural laws. These people were peaceful. At this period natural gas was utilized to make large ballons from the skins of animals. These ballons were used for transporting materials. Electricity was discovered and set to work. With these attainments however, turmoils arose between those of pure lineage and those who had not completely throw off the animal influences. Bloodshed resulted. Strife rather than peace became the state of affairs, and the fact that the people now possessed such control of nature's laws made the destructions more terrible.

Besides electricity, there was advanced television and radio; amplification of light rays for telescopes; systems for heating and lighting beyond those in use today. There were various rays—including the lethal DEATH RAY. Fluxes of metals unknown today were used in air and water craft which were superior to the best we make today, and these craft were propelled by forces from the sun's rays caught and reflected by crystals.

CITIES IN ATLANTIS

The largest and beautiful of the many cities in Atlantis was Poseidia. This city was on the island of the same name by the bay of Parga, and was one of the last great islands to be left standing.

The city was made of stone and filled with beautiful people. The temple stood in the heart of the city. Other buildings were built in tiers and colored stones of high polish this work more lovely. The temple contained enormous semi-circular columns of onyx, topax, and beryl inlaid with amethyst and other stones which caught the rays of the sun at various angles. In the temple the sacred fires burned always, and there were rays and lights we know nothing of today. The MAXIN LIGHT! It is well this knowledge was kept sacred from the profane.

MIXED PEOPLES

The Atlanteans were a people of extremes. There were those who were perfect in form and feature. There also those with the most hideous bodies. The results of mixing peoples sometimes produced divine forms containing twisted, warped souls; or repulsive bodies inclosing souls seeking the light. It was a difficult time in which to live—is it not likewise TODAY?

DERO FACTS HIDDEN?

I am a member and am also on the Board of Trustees of the Ass'n for Research and Enlightenment, Virginia Beach, Va. This is a real setup backed by a good editorial staff, bureau of research, library etc., build around the psychic work of Edgar Cayce. Their main function now is to give the world the truth which came through Cayce in over thirty thousand readings. You know Mr. Cayce passed on last January. If you are not familiar with any of this, be sure to read "There Is A River". Much information came through on Atlantis, Lemuria, and Old Egypt during the building of the Sphinx, Pyramid etc.

Prior to the Adam period this old world was inhabited by great races who came here and projected their thoughts into bodies. However, on our subject of the dero Atlanteans I have so far been unable to unearth facts about them in Cayce readings. There probably is something, though it would be hidden. This matter of locating and pinning down material on the Lemurians and Atlanteans who inhabit the caves is a real job. From a standpoint of giving physical evidence of Dero I am at loss.

All my experiences have been psychic, as I presume yours have been. We need to locate those who have seen or been with these deros. But if we keep up the search we may be rewarded when we least expect. You may print anything I send you but little of it can be proved materially. I believe in reincarnation. I KNOW it is a fact. The entire philosophy which came through Cayce is built around it, and the life readings of which he gave thousands are based on this and bring out several lives for the seeker each time. The readings I had from him served only as a check for I already knew the facts and lives from my own memory.

CAYCE PHENOMENA

There have been only three instances including Cayce of his type of phenomena in the past two hundred years. Cayce was NOT a medium. To those who did not have the privilege of a reading here is what it is. It is a blue-print for effectual living for it reveals the life- pattern of the individual as a whole.

Laying aside his conscious mind, Edgar Cayce would rise in vibration about the rythm of dense matter where he transcended time and space and was thus able to read the akashic Records of the individual seeking his help to better undestanding of the purpose of life in general, and his own life in particular. It is my conviction—and Mr. Cayce's own understanding that he was NOT controlled at anytime, but was guided by the Great Cosmic Forces (Creative Forces they termed thenselves). He was informed frequently by these Forces directing his work that each Entity's soul-mind holds the memory of that entity's life and work as a Whole. Man's descent to the dense plane of matter for the purpose of certain evolutionary development, veils this memory, and it is this veil that Edgar Cayce lifted.

ARCH-ANGEL MICHAEL

Only three times in his life did anyone but Edgar Cayce talk through his body, and all three times it was the Arch-Angel Michael, and they say it was awe-inspiring. Cayce's body would vibrate until it nearly shook him off his couch and the voice would be so loud and fierce that they could hardly stand to hear it. I just missed hearing the last episode of this kind when I was there last year. At no time did a discarnate entity EVER use Cayce.

Rewrite Race Legends

LETTER NO. 1001

I suggest a rewrite of the basic legend of Adam and Eve. For instance the tree of life must relate to the family tree of evolution on the particular planet referred to. The tree of knowledge relates to the evolution and branches of knowledge compiled by the various intelligent races existing on that planet. The serpent that walks like a man would be the snake principle—that is—treachery, trouble making, cold blooded, conscience-less etc. The apple might be considered as the glistening fruit that looks good but that decays with phenomenal speed when bitten into or partaken of. Now if carefully rewritten to get at the symbolic hidden story, a new rewrite in turn is made then only might so some glimmer of the truth be derived. Remember that the conquest of any culture always resulted in a rewrite of the history of the conquered or complete destruction of the conquered one's history. The only way a story of that race could be kept alive would be to tell of an individual hero in symbolism. The key to the code would be all the things this hero did as the story of the race before conquered.

OTHER PLANETS LIVES

In the life readings only such past incarnations were given as were of value to the individual here and now. Some of these were former periods on the earth planet, others on planes of consciousness between earth incarnations, but they always were experiences of an evolutionary progress, influencing the present life in its motivation, urges, activities, and associations with people. Astrology (but not the kind we are familiar with) has a decided bearing for the readings tend to show that in these periods between earth lives we live in or are a part of life of certain other planets. It may even be that we actually live in bodies on other planets during the in-between times. Anyway it gives much to think about.

AMAZING STORIES

GLOW MEN

LETTER NO. 1021

While the spiritual world urges me to relate this story, other spirit forces seem to be fanatically opposed to any revealment. If you want to stick your neck out, maybe we can do something about it.

I have a story that has caused me many a headache and taken many years to put together. It smacks much of Shaver and Churchward, yet it is different. Shaver claims to have been a civilized man in Lemuria, while I claim to have been the great grandfather of certain eskimo tribes. Many things that have puzzled scientists have long been an open book to me. I witnessed the destruction of the civilized world through this strange insight that has been mine always. To me it was designated as the fourth planet. Churchward called it Mu.

I visited Mu during its final distruction, in a spirit body. Yet I remember living in the flesh on planets one, two and three—time periods named differently by other writers.

It was the merging of these planets which destroyed civilization on the fourth planet. The people of these ancient worlds crossed and produced the different civilized races now found on present day earth.

FOURTH PLANET MEN

I have good reason to believe the glow men of the fourth planet forced the moon out of its wheel of gravitation after removing everything they wished to save. Who said that Chinese came from the moon? Mybe certain of their Forebearers did. The possibilities are so great that I am not certain but what all the races a product of evolution on the fourth planet were not brought there from other planets by the glow men.

There seems to be a great break between the more intelligent of the sub races and the primitive tribes, as there was between the Glow Men and intelligent subraces. Certain Indian tribes which were cross blooded between planets 1-2-3 and 4 claimed they were regimented by Venus. It is possible that one side of their ancestry was brought to ancient earth civilization from Venus.

SPIRIT ONLOOKER

Would anyone believe that I saw a certain very prominent race descend out of heaven to leave their seed on earth with the intention of having their descendants rule this earth. In some scenes I was in the flesh, in others in the spirit of a little brown man who could not enter the kingdom of heaven of this super race. What I witnessed took place many aeons ago when I was just a mass of energy floating in the skies.

Although I have glow blood in my veins I have not the spirit of the glow man, for my spirit has fought against the spirits of the glow men. I was banished from my tribe for opposing the teachings of the glow men. Most white people will want to claim to having the spirit of the glow men, but I believe most white people have the spirits of their savage forebearers before the cross with the glow blood turned their skies white.

Though I am white, in spirit I feel I am eskimo. I probably have more eskimo blood in me than I have glow blood. I saw the people that Shaver speaks of—the ones he called Titans—or perhaps I should say I saw their spirits descend upon the earth and take up their abode in the bodies of the Norse men—or more accurately the race from which the Norse men had their beginning. There is still some resemblance between the norse men and their forebearers. The Norse men, of course, are crossed with many native tribes.

FILLERS

It is the will and wish of thy God, that all men become constitutionally capable of receiving and comprehending the highest light, and that they shall no longer depend upon any priest, church, oracle or holy book, or upon consulting spirits.—OASHPE.

Wanted photographs of subjects contained in your letters whenever possible.

LETTER NO. 1000

Your ideas being put into active action have more merit than passive contemplation.

I wish to call your attention to an interesting fact. The Pyramid of Cheops as seen by means of a sharp and clear photograph shows a cap stone pile that changed the original flat topped "Mustabah" into a pyramid. The ancient Mustabah as also seen in Mayan architectures always had a temple building in the top center of the truncated pyramid. Therefore it reasons well that if the cap stone is carefully removed layer by layer there will be revealed some secret thing or holy of holies that was originally sealed in.

The interesting item is that this stone does not weather as well as the original and therefore will itself fall away at some future time. The Egyptians having prophesy as a Science may have so altered an existing pyramid (Cheops) as to cover its best secrets till the dark age is over as inevitably it must be soon. It is thought that Cheops vast labors only relate to this cap stone as the main body is of a rock not thought to be native to Egypt.

"GOHEEN CEREMONY"

LETTER NO. 1008

Your ad in Fantastic Adventures attracted my attention, and after a struggle I decided to answer it. In answering, I am reminded that this is the halitosis ad in reverse. Instead of your best friend not telling you—you don't tell your best friend. Most of them would think one whacky. And there is always the possibility that they are right, I suppose.

Whether what I have to write you is psychic, racial memory or the figment of my imagination or the faint memory of some story read long ago, I wouldn't know. The thing about it that makes me wonder is that it always starts at the same place, ends at the same place and never changes. The same scene and the same action.

STRANGE TUNNEL

The scene starts in a tunnel of black glistening rock, lighted at head height by some type of what appears to be a neon like light, running in a wide band the entire length of the tunnel. Marching down the tunnel are seven men—the one in the lead in a long golden robe and the six others, seemingly a guard of some sort and of which I seem to be one, following two abreast. At the end of the tunnel the procession stops and a great door swings open, and the men pass through onto a wide balcony.

BLACK CLIFFS

In each direction, as far as the eye can see, is a towering black cliff, with other balconies at intervals, and other groups appearing on them. Below is a wide, slow moving river with a few boats of varying sizes, some tied up at warfs and some moving slowly down the river. Between the river and the cliffs a large group of people in white tunics are working in the fields. As if at some signal, each of the golden robed figures, which I seem to understand are priests, lifts a trumpet and sends out several long piercing blasts. At the sound the workers below drop their tools, form into long lines and march away toward the river where they disappear into long, low buildings. This always seems to be just at sunset, and I understand that it is the end of the day's work.

TRUMPETS BLOWN

As soon as the last person has disappeared, the seven men about face and return into the tunnel; the doors close and the march back starts. After a short walk the figures seem to fade away, and I see no more of them. The next time the thing comes to my mind it is identically the same. I seem to get the name of the cliffs as the Black Cliffs of Yaw or Yawl, and the word "goheen" when the trumpets are blown. Whether that meant the name of the ceremony or the name of the priest or the sunset itself I can't get, although it has something to do with the proceedings. If this ties in with anything I would be glad to know about it. I have had this occur for over a period of more than forty years.

LEMURIAN LEGENDS AND SUGESTIONS

LETTER NO. 1017

Subject: Lemuria.

Introduction: I have always been intrigued by legends of ancient civilizations and have delved into this subject considerably. Lemuria was in what is now the Pacific Ocean and Atlantis was in the position which the Atlantic Ocean now occupies. I will discuss only Lemuria (Also called Mu-mother-land) as it was here that the science and wisdom of the ancient races originated.

Speculation: Of late much fanciful material has been published on Lemuria. Such as semi-fiction stories by A. Merritt ("The Moon Pool", "The Snake Mother", and "The Face in the Abyss") which are on the theme that there now exist powerful races in underground caverns. Also on the same order are stories by . . Shaver which are now being published in "Amazing Stories" magazine. He says that these underground races are for the most part evil and are the cause of sickness, wars, etc. In "Atlantic Monthly" magazine an article by William Beebe states that rumors are prevalent that the underground race is due to break out soon and attempt to overthrow the earth. Charles Fort's book, "The Book of the Damned" also contains material for the same nature.

Proofs: All of the preceding has merely been what writers state so far has had no scientific proof. The following only need more colaboration to be proven facts:

1.—What is now California was once part of Lemuria.

2.—50,000 years ago there existed a civilization with a greater society and science than we have now.

3.—When Lemuria submerged, survivors fled to the Mountains where descendants of these are still living in underground caverns among ruins of these ancient civilization.

4.—Many people have seen these descendants and have been in these caverns. Living in California, you have doubtless heard many tales of white lights seen in certain nights of the month, chanting and weird, beautiful music, heard by many reliable witnesses. Most of these phenomena originate on (or in) Mt. Lassen and Mt. Shasta. Undecipherable hieroglyphics have been found on these mountains. All explorations, it seems, failed because as soon as they neared the places car ignitions would stop, or fog would roll over the land and nothing could be discovered.

Conclusion: Our immediate duty and purpose consists of two things.

1. Organize a serious minded expedition to minutely explore these regions with metal locators, telescopes, etc.,

2. Secure affidavits of those reliable witnesses who have seen these things. If we gather enough, this will be good proof. I wish you success in your effofrt to unravel the riddle.

CHINESE MOON PEOPLE

LETTER NO. 1018

I saw your ad in Fantastic Adventure and decided to write.

My information on Lemuria and Atlantis comes from Colonel James Churchward's books, The Lost Continent of Mu, The Children of Mu, and the Sacred Symbols of Mu; various legends and my own personal opinions.

Churchward calls Lemuria "Mu, the Motherland", which is the name in the ancient legends of India, Maya, and other lands, and consequently, its real name to all intents and purposes.

LOCATION OF MU

MU was a continent in the Pacific, ocupying the position now held by the islands of Polynesia and Micronesia. In size, it must have been as great as Africa. Mu colonized the entire world, and was the ruler of all the earth. The main colonies were in Atlantis, Mexico, Egypt, India, and several other lands of old. The greatest of the colonies were called "colonial empires" and were each ruled by their own emperors, under the protection of Mu. One of the greatest of these colonial empires was the Uigir Empire, which consisted of what is today China, Siberia, Iran, Turkestan, and eastern Europe, with colonies or outposts in Spain and the Brittish Isles. According to Churchward, the Irish, Welsh, Basques, and Celts are the descendants of those "frontiersmen." Mu was destroyed by earthquakes and volcanic activity, 60,000,000 of her people dying with her. Atlantis then took the lead in civilization, holding it till about 11,000 B. C. Then it too was destroyed in the same way as Mu. Atlantis was about the size of Australia, and took up the middle of the Atlantic Ocean between North America and Africa. . . That much from Curchward.

The conclusions that I have drawn concerning many legends and myths concern not Mu and Atlantis so much as they do the origin of man and pre-Murian happenings. There is a Chinese legend that their ancestors came from the moon in ships with tails of fire. Isn't a pretty good description of a rocket? And in a tale handed down from century to century, couldn't the word "Moon" become substituted for the word 'sky" or "stars" or another "planet." Again: Why is God thought of as dweling in the sky? Churchward says that the beliefs of different cults that the soul had to go either eastward or westward to be judged was due to the memory of Mu, which was either to the east or the west, depending on the location of the tribe and the line of colonization from which it came. Therefore, couldn't the belief that heaven is "up" have been the result of an even dimmer memory of mankind's true origin?

EXPLANATION OF FIRST PEOPLE

LETTER NO. 1012

As far as the Bible story of Adam and Eve is concerned, I would say it can quite easily be rationalized as true, for the part of the world in which it was written.

If the earth has been in existence for millions of years, as it probably has, and if it has had floods, and other cataclysms which changed its continents, threw up mountains and the like, it could quite easily happen that a few would escape, go to some other part of the earth and make a new start. Without transportation or means of communication, they would, in time forget that there was anyone else on earth, and their descendants would speak of their first parents as the first man and the first woman who over lived.

I think most of the so called "occult knowledge" of the ancients was mostly the knowledge that there were other nations and peoples besides their own. A knowledge of geography, of other climatic conditions than their own, and of writing messages. This knowledge would be discovered by sea faring men, and by others who travelled around and brought back word to the ruling classes.

As for their system of writing, it was mostly picture writing. Our English language and our sytem of representing sounds by symbols is much better and shows that we are just as intelligent as they were or a great deal more so.

EVIL STARS

Why are some stars (e.g. the Pleides) considered as evil, and some as a sign of fortune? Could it have been that in the dim past a race of men from another star (one of the fortunate ones) founded an interstellar empire, of which Earth was a colony? Could it not have been that this empire got into a terrible war with some stars(one of the evil stars), a war that smashed the empire and severed all connection and communication with Earth? As a result, Earth sank into savagery, to come out ages later as Mu. One more item before I go. The Root-Races of man, from Hindu theology. Our race is considered as the Fifth Root-Race. That means that there were four other races before us. The following table will help you to understand what I mean:

5) Our present civlization.

4) The civilization of Atlantis, which ruled earth after the destruction of Mu.

3) Mu.

2) The star colonists who had inhabited earth for centuries, for so long, in fact, that they considered themselves as Earthmen.

1) The star colonists, who first colonized earth.

The Above are some theories and opinions of mine concerning Lemuria and Atlantis. I hope they will be of some help to you in your quest of information on the past. Good luck.

THIS SACRED PEOPLE

LETTER NO. 1007

For nearly of my adult life, (I am 65) I have been very much interested in ancient, prehistoric research and have studied everything I could get hold of pertaining to the subject and have arrived at certain conclusions. One of these is: that, very truly, by "looking backward" you can see ahead, because the whole Universal Plan is a cycle and at certain times certain things happen, have happened and will happen again: that, strictly speaking, there is really no such thing as time and space—because one is endless and the other is boundless. I am no scientist but I have long felt that many of the concepts of our scientists are all hay-wire especially regarding astronomy and cosmogomy. So, in order to satisfy an insatible curiosity I have studied everything I could get hold of—outside of the usual chanels of information. My conclusions have been drawn from too many diferent sources to enumerate them here, but I consider them the results of the application of some of the best minds the world has known. The ordinary man or woman does not go very deeply into such studies as philosophy, cosmogony, geology, reincarnation, religion, etc., and are prone to consider the one who does a kind of harmless nut, or crackpot and reject the conclusions at which he arrives on those things which most vitally affect our very existence here and hereafter—I suppose that, ordinarily there isn't much money in these things.

You ask for knowledge regarding the two lost continents. Knowledge is defined as "clear perception; information". the human race has at the present time a lot of information, less real knowledge and much less wisdom for wisdom is knowledge applied. I don't know whether to call this—knowledge, information or just plain crackpot vaporizing.

LEMURIA AS WAGA

Taking the two continents in order of their antiquity, Lemuria also known as Waga, Pan, Mu, etc., comes first for Lemuria was the first continent to emerge from the waters after the world was formed when the land and the waters were divided more than 150,000 years ago—how much more we don't know.

IHINS SACRED PEOPLE

It was on this continent Lemuria that all human and animal life began; also all vegetable life as we know it today. These life forms have all (especially human life) been a matter of evolution and that process is still going on. I don't mean evolution from a one cell creation but from a lower one without spiritual entity or perception. There has been no "Fall of Mankind" because the evolution of mankind has been a succesion of rises and falls from the beginning. This pertains to the races (which all stemmed from the one race in the beginning) and also to the civilizations which rose and fell coincident with the rises and falls of the races! This continent, Lemuria, at one time occupied much of the space now covered by the Pacific ocean and extended nearly around the world. The races who occupied this continent after attaining a high state of civilization and spreading to other continents as they emerged from the waters began slowly to lose their spiritual strength thru a disregard and disobedience of cosmic law and sunk slowly into barbarism until they became little better than the brutes from which they sprang in the beginning.

When the creator saw the races of Pan or Lemuria were past redemption and could no longer hear his voices nor heed any spiritual urge He determined to destroy the continent and its people—This was THE FLOOD. He had, however, a remnant of the faithful i'hins who lived true to his teachings. These He determined to save. Therefore to these people (12,420 of them) he gave the command to build ships (arks) which they did. They built 138 ships or arks and stocked them with provisions, went inside and sealed them from harm. When they had accomplished this, the Creator rent the continent to pieces with earthquake and volcanic eruption and sunk it beneath the sea with the exception of the two which comprised lands now as California, Oregon and Zshapan or Japan and some of the islands now in the Pacific which are the tops of mountains on the old continent.

THOSE SAVED

And there were drowned some 60,000,000 of the races of Pan, or Lemuria. These 138 arks were driven by the winds of the four quarters of the world that remained—Ham (Africa); Chem (India); Jafeth (China); Yista (Japan) and Guatama (Central America) and hence the I'hins or sacred people were scattered all over the world, as it was known 24,000 years ago, and their relics and the remains of their occupance have been found all over the world.

The natives of all the islands scattered across the Pacific today have much in common, even to this day, and ruins of this ancient people are scattered all over the world both above and below the present sea level.

GOOD NEWS

HOLLYWOOD FINALLY WOKE UP!

IS MAKING A PICTURE TITLED "THE LOST CONTINENT OF MU"

QUEEN MOO IN ATLANTIS

LETTER NO. 1034

I am very much interested in the study of the people who inhabited the lost continent of Atlantis and Lemuria. I have a book called "Lemuria, The Lost Continent of the Pacific". It mentions the Mystery People of Mt Shasta. I believe they are a link with the Lemurians and may have migrated when the island was sunk. Forming a good sized colony, these people moved from one place to another always seeking higher ground because of the fear of sinking beneath water again. There are other colonies scattered all over. In Peru and Chile, along the Amazon, are found strange people, and no one seems to know where they came from exactly. My guess is these people also might be descendants of Lost Lemuria.

STRANGE AFRICANS

Atlantis was sunk during the Great Flood mentioned in the Bible, and of course, people migrated to Europe from this point. There was a colony of ebony people found in Africa much different from other colonies. These people were from 6½ to 7 feet tall. and very fine featured . They dressed in long white robes with strange designs printed or stamped in black and some in colors on the hems and neck lines of the gowns. The heads of these people were finely shaped and the people were nothing like our negroes of today. I firmly believe these people are from Atlantis and thru weather conditions, food and outdoor living their skins became dark. This is a proven fact —that climatic conditions do have a lot to do with skin colouring, etc.

QUEEN MOO

According to records Queen Moo ruled over Atlantis 18,000 years ago, and they were at the height in civilization. The records show that the Atlanteans knew all about the Lemurians and in about 30 days. Henceforth disciples were sent back and forth according to ancient Lemurian records.

ANCIENT STORY

Critias tells Socrates a very interesting story which he regards as authentic. Critias heard it from his great grandfather who heard it from Solon the famous philolsopher. In the Delta of the Nile stands the city Sais, formerly the capital of the Pharoah Amasis. It was founded by the Goddess Neith called by the Greeks Athena. The inhabitants of Sais are friends of the Athenians because they believed they had a common origin. Certain information concerning the mysterious prehistoric culture in Central and South America allows us to conclude that the refinement of that culture was due to Atlantean influence. Thru trade and contact these people adopted Atlantean words, habits and living habits becoming much more intelligent.

INDIAN TRIBE MYTHS

LETTER NO. 1026

For many years I have done research in occultism, archeology, etnology, linguistic, astrology, Indian civilization and like subjects. I have made many unpublished notes that might find a place in a magazine of the sort you want to edit. The reading of Churchward's book on Mu and Shaver's stories has renewed my interest in these problems and has made me see much of my data in a new light. I hope the readers of Amazing Stories will cooperate with you and make it possible of your magazine.

I believe that more study should be given to the myths and legends of the American Indians in the light of Churchward's interpretations. I have lived several years among the Indians in this country and Mexico and have gained their confidence. I am honorary medicine man of the———— tribe with the name of———————— I was given a medicine man's beaded jacket with the symbol of Aquarius on the back.

Aquarius represents the Divine Thought, vibration in all its forms from mental telepathy to radium, music, color, planetary influence and radio waves.

WIFE REMEMBERS

My wife says that as a child she had a memory or vision of herself as a man living in a big cave with her people who knew much about the earth and its products and who possessed a knowledge of machinery and physics equal to or better than our present day. She said that she looked for minerals in the rock with a glass tube in her hand which seemed to contain some sort of attractive power or force.

GYPSY TRADITION

By race I am gypsy. We call ourselves children of the Sun, and some of us believe that we came from what Churchward would call Uighur, capital in what is now the Gobi Desert. It is tradition among our people that we once belonged to a great civilization that had had much in common with the one created since modern science began.

I've always felt I belong to a country that disappeared an immeasurably long time ago. Others have noticed something about me that makes them feel the same, and are afraid of me. When I was a young boy in college a girl who had been introduced to me pulled back her hand and screamed: "Your face is young, but your soul is old. . . . I would as soon try to shake hands with a mummy as to take your hand." She ran out of the room and would not speak to me anymore.

When I was in the seventh grade of school I wrote a story about an underground city. A Pima Indian, insisted that I had been an Indian about six hundred years ago, and offered a rather convincing argument to prove it. I believe in everything and in nothing. "There are more things in Heaven and earth. . ." is perhaps, the best attitude to take. Meanwhile. . . may my good wishes go with you. Later on, if it should be possible, I should like to help you with your magazine.

MT SHASTA EXPEDITION

LETTER NO. 1041

You wrote of forming an expedition into Mt Shasta to see if you would be thrown out. From all the information I've heard read, etc., you realize this is a dangerous mission. Now I am not trying to discourage you—far from it, as I would like to know if you would consider having a small group from our Ohio join you in this Expedition? We, like yourself are interested in ancient history, people, myths, and facts. This trip, however, is very dangerous, and all who go must realize that before they start they may not come back. Many such people have tried this before us, some never even having been heard from since. The rest that came back found —nothing. See what I mean? If we (and I say "we" in case our group went along,) would find anything out, we must face the fact that these people may not permit us to return to tell the world of our discoveries, I've always wanted to go, since I first heard of Mt Shasta. The others feel as I do about it. We could meet in Calif. and discuss the situation and each could add his share of suggestions. I realize also that it might be some time before all of our plans could be worked out to all satisfaction. Would you be willing to discuss this further? There may be more interested in this in other states also—so you may have started something. Please consider my bid. I can let you know how many there would be later. There are two of us now, but no doubt there will be more when it is generally konwn.

For myself, I should consider myself very lucky if I could take a hand in it as one of your staff, with or without pay. I have a small income that permits me to live without working and live wherever the humor takes me.

If you cannot afford to subscribe, but are interested in these subjects send for the publication anyway. I do not want a small item like money to stand between you and the konwledge that is be gained through our mutual sharing. I will enter the expense against "The Maxin 92' Research Fund".

EVIL CULT HYNOSIS

LETTER NO. 1043

I think you are doing a very good thing in helping forward the progress of research on the Shaverian front. He has started along with the very open minded Ray Palmer something which I hope will end very beautifully. I have a few experiences and facts I can give you which may help your research. All my life has been involved in the strange and occult. At the time of my birth my father was a priest in an occult organization little known but with a far reaching influence. What goes on behind the door of this organization is never told because they are afraid they will be called insane—which is true in a sense. I got out of the organization about a year ago. I have full reason to believe though that I was guided and influenced by unseen persons or an unseen force because: those once caught in the strange drag-net of this organization never free themselves of its detrimental influence over their minds and they stay under its domination the entire length of their lives.

PLANNED HELP

My exit was one which showed signs of intelligence guidance of some sort. Different accidents occurred as if planned intelligently. Something happened which it is hard for me to believe now—but I have to believe the record of its experience as much as I know. The intelligence was a being with some means of mental conversation. I found that mental impressions had been focussed by different ones in various places in order to direct my actions. This was done very subtly and unknown to me. However, I began to notice something was going on. I felt prompted to buy Amazing—a type of magazine I hadn't read for a long time. Mr. Shaver's stories helped me formulate a theory which fitted in with the facts of my own experiences. This aided me to free myself from the remaining of influences of this occult organization.

UNDERGROUND WOMAN

I found I have been holding conversations with a person underground! At this time I was living in L. A. The creature underneath was a woman named ANEVA. She told me all about conditions where she was, and often she had to break conversations to end the trouble brewing in her environment. I enjoyed her visits and the intelligent counsel she gave me. Then she was moved and I have spoken with her once since then. I have met others though since then.

That these underworld creatures exist I am convinced. That there is a definite plan now in the offing to utilize a combined assets of good intention to change the conditions of existence on this planet I also know, and feel I am part of it.

Did Meteor Showers Drive Ancients Into Hiding

LETTER NO. 1042

I am also interested in clearing up the stories of this Lemuria, Atlantis and "MU". I have searched in books, libraries, and have tried to get at the bottom of the real truth of all this even by joining an occult society in Calif. But if the society had any truth they kept it to themselves and took the cash from the suckers.

A long time ago I saw in the Bible in 2 Samuel, 18 verse; "Behold it is written in the Book of Jasha". I have been searching for this book for fifty years—and at one time purchased the book of that title from this organization. I was cheated! There was not a bit of true reproduction from the original Book of Jasha. I have studied other books and feel perhaps Lemuria had a different name. Scientists give it this name because of the "Lemurs"—apes that lived in those sections.

It is an undisputed fact that there were civilizations here and and that there were civilizations all over the globe before ours came —"and that there was an empty space of time in which time we were robbed of the real truths about the Hoary Past". There are some records geologically written but the top dogs of our present system will not let us have the REAL truths. Progress can not be held back forever even tho they try. There are people who know—and they have the "guts" to come out and say so regardless of all sorts of treats and coersion.

A little while ago there was a man named Dr. George Clap-Vaellant; who was killed by parties unknown. He tried to tell the world that there were things, but he got hot lead for his crazy notion. The papers called it "suicide".

RUINS IN MEXICO

Read the book IRISH WISDOM by Connor McDari and you will get the idea that there were great nations long ago because of the ruins all over the globe. Some in Yucatan, some near the Lake of "litikaka" or "Clear Waters". Some in Mexico. We are told nobody knows who lived or built these great temples or why they disappeared.

METEORS FALL

Some timeless ages ago our part of this globe was showered by meteorites. Especially So. and No. Carolinas, Georgia and Florida. The gasses from the meteors and the heat killed nearly all these people Only few saved themselves. The ones who ran for their underground shelters. These people probably settled in Mt. Shasta later and Mt. Rainier and out into the South Sea Islands. Their few descendants are yet alive in some obscure mountain hideouts, and they know the real truths.

ANCIENT IRISH HISTORY

I have been thinking of making a visit to Mt. Shasta in the hopes of meeting these mysterious people. Not because I'm nosey, but I want to learn a lot more before I pass away to my ancestors in the Land of "Noad". The Lore of ancient history in the Ancient Irish I consider foreruns the present and past civilizations some 27000 years—according to the temples in Egypt, the so called pyramids at Gizeh and the old Budhist and Chinese temples. They all tell of what was before.

Even Japan "Ja-Pan" the land of "Pan" means Lord of the Sun Gods of the Sun temples. Also we find this word Pan or Lord in the Polish language. Present day schools teach none of the ancient truths nor do the clergy of many creeds, sects, and religions.

STOLEN WISDOM

The ancient High Priests did teach and recite very morning the laws of life from the great book of gold called Bibela or Bible which the Roman rulers stole from the Irish and changed to suit themselves and the times and conditions of the dark ages. Five hundred years they took to transcribe the history and destroy the truth and create nations that never existed foisting on us the so called Christian religions stolen by the Essenes from the ancient Irish. There is much written on the Stone Temple walls in Yucatan that only few can read and understand, and then are silenced by threat of death so that we stumble on in present day darkness.

POWER OF THE CURVE

LETTER NO. 1037

I am taking the trouble to find out if you are interested in the same phase of the problem as Mr. Palmer seems to be, namely to find some of the missing pieces of the puzzle as a whole.

As I informed Mr. Palmer, and now, you, I am confident I hold the key to a certain phase of Motive force—the principle of power of the curve. Of course due to natural caution I don't feel free to toss my ideas to the four winds and as it is my conviction that the world or rather man is not ready for certain things to be revealed want to be sure that the plan now being sponsored by you and also the one by Ray Palmer are altruistic enough before I release what I have which I assure you is much too advanced for the barbaric state of man today.

I do not care for publicity or notariety so I have not been discomfitted by keeping myself and the various mechanical principles which have evolved though my efforts submerged. If I may help, please let me know.

VOO DOO STONES

LETTER NO. 1059

Would be greatly interested in your bulletin on the findings of Lemuria. Was wondering if the highly polished back and green stone age implements of the Carib Indians (now used as voodoo stones by the Haytians) would have any bearing.

DERO TERROR?

LETTER NO. 1022

I do not say I know of Lemuria or Atlantis. But I do know of something or person outside the realm of modern, mortal ken.

About a year ago, I lived on a farm where all the water supply was from a cold spring which bubbled from the earth at the roots of a giant oak tree. One day when I went there alone I distinctly heard laughter, merry and carefree, yet with a feeling in it of soul-shaking horror.

I am not a coward, yet terror overcame reason, and I wasted no time in going home—back to the house from the spring. Trying to convince myself that this was a figment of imagination, I went back to the spring a few hours later. . . before I reached it, however, I felt a cold thought reaching out toward me, as if some creature watched me with cold angry eyes. Thereafter, for two and one half months, I never went there alone. . . always I took some one with me, and while they never felt it, always that vindincative presence was there; always on watch to catch me alone. I felt that there was some fact IT wanted to tell me, and was certain I did not want to know.

One day when I went to the spring there was no feeling of hidden hate, and thereafter I went alone and unafraid. We moved from there, and I forgot my fear. But one day on the school bus as we passed that farm I heard again that same d i a b o l i c a l laughter and knew it had escaped whatever barrier that had held it to the vicinity of the spring, and was seeking me here among my schoolmates. I reached over and touched one of my girlfriends and the contact seemed to serve as a wall between me and IT. I could feel it there but now it was baffled since then I have lived in terror of ITS seeking me out and imparting to me that thing which no person can know and live.

Hypnotic Subject Recalls Ancients Ray

LETTER NO. 1025

I have been experimenting with hypnotism. One of my friends with whom I was working to sleep while I repeated "LEMURIA" to him. He said while under hypnosis that he could see a crowd of people gathered around a kind of harbor between two hills. He said there were three people and in front of them was a small machine with a part in front which looked like a harpoon running out from it. The "harpoon's" sharp end was shooting a purple light out. Then my friend seemed to rise about a half foot of the bed and came to his senses yelling.

I questioned him as to what the light had been shooting at, but he couldn't remember anything.

Dates In Atlantian History

LETTER NO. 1021

I am much interested in your plan about Atlantis and Lemuria. I cannot offer anything but some recommended reading. Lt. Churchward's book on Mu, the Rosacrucians publications. Other sources of information will be various books on primitive races. Greek history, Moorish, and Norse history, as well as the history of various churches all will give further information.

Here are some of my notes on the subject:

Atlantis * A Table of Approximate dates in Atlantean-Antillian History 23,000 B. C. Cromagnon Race or First Atlantean Wave arrives in Europe at the close of the Ice Age. 14,000 B.C. Magdalenian Second Wave arrive in Europe. 10,000 B. C. Azilan-Tardenoisian Race—Third Wave arrive in Europe. 96,000 B. C. Final submergence of Atlantis.

Then comes the sister island known as Antillia, a colony, partly submerged, refugees fled to the mainlands of the Americas. 200 B. C. Antillian race Mayas arrive in America. 600 A. D. Dessertion of the cities in Guatemala by the Maya-Toltecs in Mexico and Yuatan. Atlantis Table C: Rulers. . .
Nausithous
Alcinous
Thearus
Atlas (probably adopted name)
Gadeinous
Cronos

I have more information of this sort and somewhere in my effects bibliographies and sources much gained by interviews with unimportant people all over the United States.

Good luck on your bulletin, and don't try to commercialize on the whole thing and you will help science advance by leaps and bounds.

UNDER SEA CAMEARA

LETTER NO. 1014

Although I have never experienced memories of Lemuria or Atlantis I believe they may have existed, and I want to know more of them. Your bulletin will provide me with some of the information I want. The tale of Troy turned out to be the truth and possible Atlantis and Lemuria can be proven true. A new undersea camera my prove the means of locating the ruins. I am interested in knowing the answers to many questions and proving if possible, the existence of these lands.

Starting next edition MAXIN 92 will devote some pages to a guest editorialist.

Lives Dream Life in Ictal

LETTER NO. 1019

The following is a carbon copy of a letter to Mr. Ray Palmer of "Amazing Stories" I noted the copy of your letter in the September issue of the above magazine and would like to state that I am heartily in favor of your plan for publication. I would like to go a bit further than you suggest. Have you ever thought of a series of clubs in various cities all of whom might do research and discuss the problems in which we are all interested. We'll never find out anything about the mysterious past unless we all pull together. I have some very difinite ideas on the subject and would be only to pleased to communicate them to you if you are interested.

LETTER COPY

"Since the first publication of your Lemuria articles, I have been following with interest the public opinion aroused. I have read Mr. John Klein's letter in the September issue relative to his dream, and it would seem that the time has come at last for me to discuss a subject I have conscientiously avoided for The events that have elasped since I was a boy of 17 and I had a dream. the past ten years. Ten years ago they have at times been all too disturbing. In that first dream I saw myself as a youth in some far-distant land (and, as I believe now, some far distant time). During the last ten years these dreams have come regularly. For weeks I will, seemingly, live a double life—one by normal daytime life and the second as Agnor, at night. The thing that puzzled me at first was the fact that in my second existance (as I came to call it) events would seem to transpire as normally and I regret to say, often as uneventfully as those in my normal existance. This dual life, once accepted has proven to be far from unpleasant. I have grown to look forward to events that I know will happen, exactly as much in one life as in another.

ANCIENT ARTISIANS

My father in my second life is a merchant in the small coastal town of Ictal. I work in his warehouse where we handle large quantities of feathers which are woven by artisians into robes for relgious use. We also deal in certain gums which I believe are used in the manufacture of incense and lately we have been expanding our line to include certain filagree ornaments of gold and silver. Most of our goods are shipped by sea, always to the east. However, there would seem to be other means of transportation, as I have on rare occasions delivered goods to a large building beyond the Temple of Itzal. In my other life the process seems to be very mysterious. The goods are placed in a metal basket on the exterior of a large machine and seem to dissappear in a flash of light. I have seen articles of various sorts and occasionally a person appears on other platforms in the same way.

FINDS COMRADE

However, the most disturbing of all the strange circumstances connected with these occurences began over six years ago. One evening I was eating in a local restaurant when I noticed a young man approaching my table and for some reason I found myself wishing that he would sit down at my table. To my astonishment he did just that. When I remarked on this to him, he laughed and said that I must have been using mental telepathy. Whereupon we started talking about that subject and presently he made the statement that he knew that among certain ancient peoples telepathy was well developed. I mentally pricked up my ears as that was one very definite difference in my dream life and my actual life. Speech is an unnecessary evil in my other life, though often used. During the discussion he began to discuss subjects, events and scenes of which I had a definite knowledge from my second life, and it soon came out that he, too, had dreams similar to mine, and seemingly of the same city and period of history.

WITNESS SAME EVENTS

We became very good friends and repeatedly we tried to arrange a meeting in that other city, but never succeeded. At times, we might on the same night, witness the same spectacle. This was frequently the case in religious festivals. Now to come to the point of my letter. You ask that readers who dream of events such as these get in touch with you. If, among your replies, you should receive any similar to mine, I would appreciate being put in touch with the persons involved so that we may correspond and compare notes. Having actually known one person who corroborrated my own experiences, and having on repeated occasions tested the truth of his statements, I find it hard to believe that other residents of Ictal do not have their living counterparts. In ten years time of constant living another world, I have amassed a wealth of detail concerning Ictal and her mode of life. I can tell you almost as much of this other town as I could of Cleveland. In fact, it has got to the point that I wonder in which life I am dreaming—and I wonder if Agnor dreams of me. (God help him if he does).

It would seem that if other people could be contacted who dream of Ictal or of other neighboring towns (I know a number of them fairly well) that something of real value may be learned..

SEVEN ELDER GODS IN ICTAL

The most serious problem we shall have to confront is the "dero" influence and a note as to how I myself face it might not be out of place here at the beginning of this letter.

Many times in my dreams I have seen the green valley of Ictal, nestled against the purple mountains which surround it, like an emerald in the palm of a giant. The city itself, seen from above is a picture which one can never forget, and its buildings are of pure white, red and black. Indeed the buildings of all the Atlantean cities I have ever seen seem to be composed of these three colors. By far the most outstanding feature of the city is the hill in the center of the city, crowned by the temple to Maia, the mother. The Atlanteans worship what is known as the Seven Elder Gods, and especially the Holy Trinity, to which Ictal itself is dedicated —Donai, the father; Maia, the mother; and Itzal the son. I myself have been, in my dreams inducted into the mysteries of Maia the Mother, and it is to her that I pray to overcome this dero influence. In fact, I might state that I sincerely believe that the influence of the Seven Elders and the Holy Trinity, in particular, are as alive today as they ever were in the days of Atlantis. There is nothing in the religious beliefs of the Atlanteans which would combat the Christian belief that we were all forn into. In fact, the Christian and Hebrew religions are, like most of the other religious beliefs of the world, seated deep into Atlantis. The story of Adam and Eve is well known there, and the healing powers which Jesus displayed to a wondering populace are well known.

SEVEN ELDER GODS

PRAYER TO MAIA

Every night since commencing the project into which we are about to go I pray to Maia the mother to protect me against evil influences and to hold me steadfast to the purpose to which I am dedicated. And, while we are talking of Maia, I have asked her that as a sort of test, you may be permitted to visit Ictal in your dreams. So far as I know this has never been done. I pray that it may be permitted. Try asking Maia in your prayers that you may make this visit. It is no more sacreligious than praying to Mary, the mother of Jesus.

In all sincerity I may state that I believe that Atlantis is about to be reborn—posibly not in our lifetime, but soon. It is our duty to awake public interest in the ancient life of Atlantis, to recreate the customs and ways of life of Atlantis, and to bring about, as much as possible, the golden age which the people of Atlantis knew.

SYMBOL FOR PROJECT

We should certainly have a name for our project, and it should be dignified by the name of research foundation. I have been thinking of having some special letterheads printed with the enclosed symbol on it. This is not an Atlantean symbol, but something I have invented. The colors, light blue and black, symbolize the two colors of Maia—the Mother of Waters and Mother of Earth. You will notice that it is composed of five black triangles for the five principal existing continents and two blue ones for the two vanished continents—Lemuria and Atlantis.

About the clubs—it is certainly something that would have to be planned very carefully. Perhaps the same purpose could be served through the pages of your Magzine. My idea was to gather small groups of people—only three or four if no more can be secured—and, all over the country during a certain period —three or four weeks—to discuss the same subject in an effort to learn everything that can be learned about it. For example, that method of transportation that I mentioned. I know very little about it, but the fact that I have noticed seven power tubes on the machine, coupled with things that others may have noticed may have a definite positive influence on things to be learned—besides serving as a test for things which I am positive are true, and building up a background of further research. Of course, the whole thing depends upon how powerful the dero influence proves to be.

DERO PUNISHMENT

When I first set about the revelation of these things, something, which may well be that dero influence, got hold of me, and I had to be taken to the hospital. The doctors admitted that they did not know what was wrong with me, but I am convinced that it was only the power of the Elder Seven that freed me from evil influences.

Believe me, Mr. Dagmar. I am trying hard not to be mystical and fantastic. These things, strange as they may seem to others, are a part of my daily life. Regardless of the opinions of others, I am convinced that Atlantis is fact not fancy—I know because I live there".

Where There Lemurians on Mt- Sinai?

LETTER NO. 1020

I am intensely interested in this Lemurian business, and I hope you put out this monthly bulletin. As I am only 14, it is impossible to get real facts, but I have some theories that I think are worth writing about. I wish you would consider them. First, I have looked over the Bible as was suggested by Mr. Palmer in the March issue of Amazing. I was not so much interested in the first chapter of Exiekel, as in the earlier part of the Old and New Testaments. I have also made a study of mythology, particularily, Greek, Roman, and Norse.

LEMURIANS AS GREEK GODS

Is it not possible that Lemuria existed at the time of early Greece, and that the Lemurians were the Greek Gods? This is how I figure it. The Lemurians, let us say, were undoubtedly more intelligent than the Greeks. What is more natural than for the Greeks to worship these Lemurians? Now Plato wrote a history of the deluge which was carried over to Greek mythology. We can also find traces of the same thing in Roman mythology. The Bibles also published an account of it. Now I will attempt to trace in theory the progress of the Lemurians up to around 36 A. D.

THEORY OF LEMURIANS

Lemuria is existing. There is an intelligent race there. Volcanoes form a large part of the physical features of the continent. They have been more or less extinct for the past maybe 12,000 years. Then as a sudden trembling is heard, one of these men interprets it as a sign of danger. He is likely to be called Noah. He builds an ark, puts animals in it, one of each sex. He also puts his family in it. A little later on maybe a few weeks later the volcanoes errupt. Simultaneously the continent is rocked with earthquakes and the sea comes in. Then the ark is set afloat and at the same time the Meditteranean Sea comes in. The ark floats through until it lands on a mountain called Sinai. They started a colony up there, and when they saw the condition of the world they tried to reform it. Thus, when Moses came along he may have climbed up the mountain to see where he was. He may have seen the Lemurians of Noah's time or some of the descendants who gave him the ten commandments. Might Moses not have thought the one he spoke to was a God, and the policy of one God have had its beginnings here?

INFLUENCE ON JESUS

Let us skip over to around one A. D. The Lemurians in Sinai still exist, carrying on their best gifts of civilization. Jesus was born and raised. He was an ordinary boy until maybe he found a tablet that Moses had left around there telling of these Lemurians. He went to Mt. Sinai, as you remember nothing was said of Jesus or what he did around the ages of 14 and 15. He might have learned the ways of the Lemurians. Then when he came back, he started raising people from the dead and curing leprocy, which he had shown no inclination of doing before. Also Mary and Joseph or maybe both were descendants of the Lemurians. They might have sent the boy to Sinai. If you like this theory—you can continue the study in that field. I will submit another theory to you.

EVOLUTION THEORY

The Lemurians undoubtedly believed in the nebular theory and evolution. I firmly believe that if Atlantis was as civilized as Mr. Shaver, thinks it was that Lemuria holds the key to the creation of the earth, positive evidence as to evolution and whether there is life on any other planets. There is one thing that I cannot conceive—the coming of the Lemurians to earth from another planet. That directly defies evolution. Unless of course, that the Lemurians came from another planet, and Neanderthal man was developed from evolution. That could be possible. Also Mr. Shaver could be making up this point, but if he did he did extremely well. The Lemurians could have been only like the other peoples of the time. However, I believe that Lemuria was an intelligent place, more so than most people think.

This theory does not directly deal with the Lemurians but may be helpful.

IS OUR RELIGION WRONG?

As we know, Neanderthal man worshipped at Stonehenge. He worshipped the sun and nature. The Norse and Greeks also worshiped nature. Then the Hebrews had the bright idea of having one God. We find in the Bible that he maketh the crops grow or he hurleth a thunderbolt down to earth. Think that over. Do you see that we are worshipping nature too. May our form of worship be changed to two Gods in the next few centuries until people will laugh at our form of worship? We are laughing at the Greek's form of worship. Maybe ours is wrong too! Religion is necessary to the earth in a moral sense but not to the point where we have to have a chicken blessed by a minister and then by ourselves. I hope you publish this monthly bulletin ad I sincerely hope that these theories may help you. I think we need a bulletin that comes out more often than Amazing Stories.

Dont let them outlaw and discard the Atomic Bomb!. Our only ace in the hole.

In opposing the use of the Atomic Bomb to bring peace you are opposing your Bible's prophecy.

Don't miss the next issue of Amazing Stories. Important new developments.

FATHER PEOPLE

LETTER NO. 1006

My information relates Atlantis and Lemuria to a much broader problem, that of the origin of human life and civilization on this planet Let us suppose a race of people driven from their homes on a planet of some prehaps distant star, as a result of an explosion of that star rendering its planets uninhabitable. They have ample warning and time to build a whole fleet of space ships on which they might look for a new home. We can call them "Father People". They arrive as a group in the solar system. Possibly others went on to search elsewhere. Perhaps some sought a temporary home on the moon. As they expanded two things happened. Other planets commenced to be fitted for habitation. The moon by loss of its air and water became uninhabitable.

They commence to divide according to the conditions of the planets to be colonized. Part go to Venus, part to earth, while the last remnants of the moon race fled to Mercury.

LORDS OF FLAME

The first attempt at earth colonization was in Lemuria. This colony due to adverse conditions either degenerated into savages or died out. Thousands of years later another attempt was made—this time on Atlantis, and a world wide culture was established. This culture in turn became degenerate and split into nations with this time a handful of men in each nation preserving the secrets of the ancient science. This handful were assisted from time to time by visitors from the more successful Venus colony. The ignorant people who saw the fiery exhaust of the space ships of these visitors called them "Lords of the Flame".

CIVIL WAR

As time went on there grew a civil war between the scientists and their knowledge for good, and those interested in corrupting the power into evil. The "White" influence withdrew from Atlantis or Poseidones and the "black" seized the power which led to the eventual destruction of the island. Today there are still secret followers of both white and black knowledge and the same silent civil war continues.

Are There Earth People on the Moon?

LETTER NO 1046

(From two young boys)

One May 5, 1942 we got a little turtle. It had supper-qualities. It was extremely intelligent and very cute. We loved each other very much. The turtle's name was Turksey and when he died we knew he would always be with us. Then we started getting messages through mental telepathy, and we knew it was Turksey. This is one of the things he told us: In 1875 a rocket ship left for the moon. It was a secret expedition. William Erickson was the inventor of the ship. His assistants and companions were his sister Anna Henshaw who was married to Frederick Henshaw, who also went along. Also there was Dr. Louis Huston, professor and scientist, and Marsha Coleman. Later William married Marsha and had a son Brad. This was after they arrived on the moon. Anna and Fredrick had a son Walter, who later came to be known as. "Weedy". The parents discovered a great deal on the moons including the Visa Ray which has aimed at earth, for the good reason by a race of Lunarites called the Japu. This ray took in the reflection of the sun's deadly rays, and shot them to earth in a horrible manner. So that each night on the full moon all the reflections of this Sun Ray would fly to Earth and cause madness in the minds of nervous people. Madness to kill. From this is derived the word LUNATIC. Luna being obvious and "tic" being short for "tickdouloreux" which is a neuralgia, which in turn, is an acute pain in the nerve.

PERPETUAL YOUTH

When the parents died, the children who were born around 1900 took over. This means that the parents were at least 55 when their children were born. Thi is because of an almost perpetual youth on Luna. Why? Because the Japu in perfecting this ray not only found a way to do harm with the sun's rays but also to do a form of good. The sun causes old age, and they had machines on Luna that could kill that ingredient of the sun's rays, purifying the air (for there is atmosphere on Luna) and prolong youth. The Japu have conquered over half of Mars, all of Luna (althought there are still uprisings there by the stone-men,) and they have conquered much of Asia on earth. The Japanese came to earth in rocket ships many thousands of years ago. The earthians still on the moon are living with the stone-people and are trying to contact earth.

OFFERS OF HELP

LETTER NO. 1031

I am not a curiosity seeker in the metaphysical field. I have studied it for the past 13 years, and also have a bachelor of science degree, secured from the study of the mental processes of the human mind. Since truth is found in many strange places, I was drawn magnetically to the Amazing Stories magazine in the early part of this year, and I have followed Shaver's stories with interest. I noticed your letter in the latest issue, and thought it would be a good idea to drop you a line and let you know I am interested in your idea of an organization.

I am afraid that I do not have any stories to present as Mr. Shaver does—but I am vitlly interested in Lemuria and Atlantis, and anything I can do to further the knowledge of this lost race, I shall be only too glad to lend my efforts. I cannot promise you a great deal of my time, as that is very limited commodity in the army, however, I shall be glad to help and assist you in whatever task you may have for me. By all means, please accept my offer, as I am serious, and also very happy that someone has taken a step to clear up all the ideas on something that may prove to upset all your present day scientific theories.

REPEATING HISTORY

I have just read your ad in F. A. Magazine. I have been thinking for some time that someone should publish such a magazine or monthly bulletin as you propose. You will get a lot of information that will never be discovered in any other way. So I say go ahead if enough person give you the green light. Use cheap paper and close print. for economy and send each person interested several copies to mail out free to interested friends. Avoid asking for pledges, or for high dues for membership, in mystical organizations and you will surely be successful. Any information I may have is gleaned from rather extensive reading. I do not believe in "racial memory" or collective consciousness. History repeats itself, but never in exactly the same way. Still it is true that the thing that hath been done (before) is the thing that shall be done (again) and that which hath been (before) is that which shall be (again) for there is nothing new under the sun.

CAVE CITY

LETTER NO. 1057

I don't know if modern man can recall events which happened to his ancestors or himself in another life. The only experience I have is an accasional dream of a city or community that seemed to be in a cave which I saw only on the darkest nights. I remember few details about the place. About every month or two this dream was repeated.

FROM EGYPT

LETTER NO. 1054

As one of few remaining European Authorities on the Atlantis question, I should very much like to know how your venture succeeds and whether you manage to get out your monthly bulletin. I would explain that not only am I engaged in preparing for publication in 1946 the revised English edition of the Atlantis Bibliography, first issued in 1926 and now covering over 4000 items, a task which is being undertaken with aid of a committee in France; but I am also engaged in forming an Atlantis Research Group to deal with all problems concerning Atlantis, Lemuria etc., This group will cooperate with the already existing societies in France, Italy, Austria, Denmark, possible Germany, Spain, etc., and will itself foster research and publish results. For the moment I am interested in details of any non-fiction works in Atlantis and kindred question published in USA or Canada, and also in knowing what research work is being done on your side of the Atlantic; on my side of the Atlantic I am checking up on practically any literary reference up to 1926, and the great majority since (my records having been partially destroyed by enemy action) I am also in contact with the majority of European investigators and know what they are doing. If any form of cooperation is possible on the above lines, I shall be interested in hearing from you.

STEPS INTO EARTH CENTER

LETTER NO 1051

I would like to pass on the little information I possess. Most of it came from my great grandmother, who was half-Indian. She was raised in Marietta, Ohio, and I have often heard her tell of a flight of stone steps leading down into the bowels of the earth. No one ever followed them all the way down—why I don't know. They were believed to have been made by the ancient Indians, but no one could say for what purpose. These steps are just about 2 miles outside the city limits. My grandmother had gone down them to the end of the Steps, and would admit there was something beyond, but what, she would not say. Perhaps, this might furnish a clue in the mystery of Lemuria. I don't know, but I do know these steps exist.

SINKING SPELLS

For sometime now, I have been suffering from unusual "sinking" spells at night accompanied by weird dreams. I go to bed at night and lay there quietly, then I begin to feel like I'm floating. This feeling continues until I completely lose all sense of anything earthly. Sometimes I remain in this semi-dead state just a short while —at other times it may last several hours. To all appearances I am dead. Yet when I awake, it seems to me that I have been living in a completely different world.

AFRICAN MYSTERY

LETTER NO. 1049

In the country around the head waters of the Sultry in western Tibet there is a forgotten city discovered by the Gartok Expedition. This country is divided into strips by "nullahs" with precipitous sides. The city was named Tooling. It was on the top of a mountain and could be reached only by subterranean funnel-like passages. Only one man could climb through these passages at a time. On the top were found ancient monasteries, temples, and palaces, lying in ruin. Natives said that once Tooling was the capital of an independent kingdom of western Tibet.

BEY EXPLORATIONS

In 1924, Hassanein Bey explored the interior of Africa and found a small oasis, Urveinat, with 150 inhabitants. The country is mountainous and there are many caves. Bey made a remarkable discovery; on the sides of some rocks he saw deeply engraved carvings, depicting processions of giraffes, lions, gazelles, ostriches, and other animals. One significant omission was the camel and Bey concluded that when the carvings were made the district had been fertile and wild life was plentiful, but camels did not exist. Later explorations were made near 'Urveinat and at Golf Kibir sixty miles from Ureinat.

ALMASY EXPEDITION

A Hungarian Count, Ladislaus de Almasy, started to explore Gilf Kibis, on which he thought he would find the lost oasis of the Little Birds or Yerzura of Arabian legends. Here, the legends say, in a white city, white as a dove; above the closed door there is a bird carved in stone, and beyond the door are many riches; and in the palace lie sleeping an enchanted king and queen, who must not be disturbed.

DANGEROUS CITY

The Legend always says the Yeyura is a dangerous place to seek. Almasy read of this place as told by Herodotus in his History, Book 4, and also in an old book by the first European who had ever heard of Yerzura, and he believed that the mysterious oasis must lie on the plateau, a belief which was strengthened by the rock carving in that vicinity. So, in 1932, Almasy organized an expedition to the western side of Gilf Kibir. They took cars and an aeroplane, in which they made a reconnaissance flights; but for a long time they were unable to find a way onto the plateau or to see any signs of life. Then on their last flight over the northern Gilf, they sighted a long "wadi" with many trees in it. They were unable to find a landing place or any way onto the plateau from the desert plain.

SECOND EXPEDITION

This discovery led to a second expedition in 1933. This time Pendered, the pilot, of the plane located a gap in the western side which curved around until it came out the eastern side. This was the entry to the plateau. When they reached the top of the plateau, they found three "wadis". They found little water but evidences in the carvings that at one time there had been an abundance of water.

The expedition found dozens of caves and the walls were covered with beautiful rock-paintings in four colours. Here were flocks of domesticated animals and human beings and dark-skinned archers with many ornaments and plumes in their hair. Was this the home of the Troglodyte Egyptians mentioned by Herodotus. In the cave there were paintings which showed unmistakable swimmers—evidence that once there had been a lake in the district. Now it is clear that the Gilf Kibir was once a thickly-populated and fertile area. Why couldn't these caves be connected with Atlantis or Lemuria?

SOUTH AMERICA MYSTERY

Also there are rumors of a strange people in the interior of South America which are thought to be the remmants of the civilized Incas. They are said to be a tribe of white Indians with red hair and blue eyes. They are called the Morcegos or bats. There are rumors also of old ruins and strange animals. There was an article about this in Geographical Journal V. 35, May 1910.

PRYAMID THEORY

LETTER NO. 1056

This evening I came upon your ad in the July issue of Fantastic Adventures and I was rather interested to know what you have in mind.

I have for years had an interest in the vanished races which are mentioned in legend. My interest in Mu and Atlantis has sent me to library reference rooms on several occassions, but I have always wound up with an assortment of geological facts, I am more interested in finding unembroidered primitive legends which I can study and deduce a pattern myself. The legends that I have found-whether presented as a study in superstition and mythology have seemed to me to be in error although the tales have always been thrown into such a tangled skein that I have been unable to separate them rightly. In my opinion, there are two important questions: first, did the people of the two continents have a science comparable to ours? Legend seems to suggest they had although dissimilar to ours in many respecst. Uncovering traces of their culture and science which might be linked with that of the Incas (judging by the unusual accuracy of their calender and the precision of their engineering,) would be well worthwile.

The second question concerns the possibility that they may have had warning of impending disaster and fled to colonial outposts which may survive today. The tales of white tribes in the upper Amazon basin,

Thoughts of the Editor

Is this the last war? The atom bomb is not exactly a secret. Every country has known about atomic bombs with the exception of knowing how to detonate the uranium atoms without the use of a cyclatron.

This one secret cannot be kept long because already there have been published clues in the newspapers about the workings of a simple detonator which starts the explosion. In the countries we have conquered by watchful vigilance we can see that no experiments are made along this line, but we can not be assured the same guarantee in unoccupied countries. It is my personal opinion that the Japanese political-religious beliefs must be broken up. They must be educated or forced away from the false beliefs lying milartists and unscrupulous religious leaders have guided these people into. The Japanese know their destiny is to be destroyed by volcanic eruption and earthquake eventually. This fear will cause them to stop at nothing which will gain them land upon which to live so they can escape this destiny when their islands go down.

Falsely educated into theories of world dominion how will these people made bitter by defeat forget what they have been taught. Will they not instead remember and wait . . . remember and wait and strike again when they have another oportunity.

Allied occupation of the islands of Japan should teach the allies much of the legends and history of this people. Proper study would reveal the original religious beliefs and origins of these people. Some of the most starting discoveries in the modern world could be uncovered. Perhaps their ancient relationship to the motherland Mu might be revealed.

I will be very interested to learn how and when the Japanese lost the secrets of Lemurian atomic force which kept them from world conquest. Misuse of this force caused Lemuria to sink as this military conquest of brutality will cause Japan to sink beneath the waves.

There is one way the Japs might escape the destiny. If the evil ones who caused the abuse destroy themselves by Hari-Kair then the evil karma may cancel itself out leaving the good to rebuild a future of peace and honor for their country. Cosmic Law will not destroy if the scales balance and the evil is cancelled out and atoned for.

RELIGIOUS ABUSE

America must guard against a wave of religious fanaticism as an escape from reality which happens after every war for that would hold back our destiny many thousand years.

This is a cycle of time that began at the meeting of the nations at San Francisco. All religions as they stand have served their purpose and unless modernized in this "last and the perennial story of the colony on the side of Mt. Shasta should be worthy of investigation. it is my opinion that a great science flourished in North Africa before the Egyptians. The story of the pyramid at Gizeh and the time required in its construction seems odd to me. The ammount of time which the slaves required to build it (I believe it was 100,000 slaves in a period of 33 years) seems to me to be the time which that number of men, working with primitive, inadequate tools, might require not in construction, but in excavation. I have never found anything to cast doubt upon this theory. The record would say that it was "built", but I feel it was found and the desert removed from it. Since it is about 500 feet high and sand and stone would have to be removed from a wide area to prevent it from being recovered. If the area cleared were five miles square and the level of the desert near the apex of the structure at the time excavation began, they would have had to remove two cubic miles of earth at the very least which would certainly have kept the primitive equipment of the Egyptians occupied that lenght of time.

cycle of time" they will fall by the wayside and those who follow will fall with them. Modernize your religion, speed the resurrection and meet the destiny set aside for man in this last cycle of time.

Discover the future, demand the veiled mysteries be unveiled. Let each religion discover its own secret truths now garbled with doctrine, hidden but waiting for eager minds to unveil the secret truths each religion contains.

There are too many religious rackets. Too many religions have become corrupted into sanctimonious rackets. Let the temples be cleaned again! God will not save anyone this time. No more will a meek man of peace and honor be sent to earth that men may crucify him upon a cross. Man must save himself in the cycle of time now unfolding. There is the direction, the guidance of a Universal Intelligence to help those who are ready. Christ will not walk in and say "This is the Resurrection". Man must ressurect himself from the tomb of ignorance where he has let himself be placed.
